

Subject of investigation	Agency handling	Country	Status	Open questions/Notes
Claim that News Corp. journalists tried to gain access to phone records of victims of September 11 attacks	FBI	U.S.	-early stages of investigation, called "assessment" -unclear whether FBI has identified targets of investigation or specific violations -called for by Reps. Peter King, Earl Blumenauer, Sens. Lautenberg, Rockefeller, Durbin	-FBI also looking to determine whether potential criminal activity occurred on US social or under US legal jurisdiction
Possibility that News Corp. violated the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act by bribing foreign officials	DOJ	U.S.	-Attorney General Holder has announced investigation into News Corp., but details of investigation are not public -called for by ThinkProgress  -in Congress, called for by Sens. Lautenberg, Rockefeller, Boxer, Menendez, Rep. Slaughter	-though investigation has been launched, FCPA has not been mentioned.
Congressional hearings	U.S. Congress	U.S.	-called for by Media Matters, CREDO, Public Campaign, Color of Change, Free Press -in Congress, called for by Reps. Braley, Slaughter, and Eshoo, Sen. Durbin
Whether News Corp.'s corporate accounting for alleged bribes was accurate or complete	SEC	U.S.	-called for by Sens. Lautenberg, Rockefeller and Boxer (included in their calls for DOJ investigations)
Out of court settlements between News of the World and victims of alleged hacking	Serious Fraud Office (SFO) -- equivalent to DOJ	U.K.	-office giving "full consideration" for calls for a News Corp. investigation
James Murdoch, Rupert Murdoch, and Rebekah Brooks: what they knew about the phone hacking scandal at News of the World	Parliament's committee on Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS)	U.K.	-happened Tuesday, July 19, 9:30am ET
Full-scale inquiry into phone hacking; press regulation	Judicial review	U.K.	-likely to involve questioning of previous prime ministers, News Corp. executives -inquiry will report back within 12 months on press regulation angle -inquiry into probe of wrongdoing to take longer	-inquiry led by Lord Justice Brian Leveson
Operation Weeting—allegations of phone hacking as well as allegations that police officers were paid for confidential information	Scotland Yard	U.K.	-ongoing -Scotland Yard also subject of judicial inquiry over ties between police and News International reporters that might have thwarted initial hacking investigations
Parliamentary review of nation's media (dominated by Rupert Murdoch)	Australian government	Australia	-Greens party has called for this review -Prime Minister Julia Gillard signaled she would be open to an inquiry into media regulation and ownership	